Pinball Minute Books Altered Probers Told

Oregon Operator
Testifies Before Congress Committee

WASHINGTON (AP)—Stanley G. Terry testified today the minutes of a meeting of the Oregon pinball operators organization were altered to "make them more factual" before a grand jury saw them.

Terry, an indicted Portland pinball machine operator, said he had questioned the accuracy of the account in the minutes of one of his own conversations.

He told the Senate Rackets Investigating Committee today that the minutes were altered by Alvin Brown, secretary of the organization.

The committee did not at once get around to questioning Terry about testimony Thursday that he had told a Portland gambler of paying $10,000 to Frank W. Brewster, head of the 11-state Western Conference of Teamsters, to get an OK to resume pinball operations in Portland.

The committee in this fourth day of public hearings in a nationwide investigation is digging into charges of an alliance between some West Coast Teamsters Union officials and underworld figures to "organize and control" vice and other rackets in Portland.

QUESTIONED by Chairman McClellan (D-Ark.) and Robert F. Kennedy, counsel to the committee, Terry denied that he personally ever had altered any minutes of meetings or the organization known as "Coin Machine Men of Oregon." He said it is "a non-profit organization, I hope."

James B. Elkins, Portland gambler, was the witness who testified Thursday that Terry told him of paying $10,000 to Brewster.

Earlier witnesses have said a combination of teamsters bosses, public officials and gamblers was trying to take over and expand gambling and vice operations in Portland in 1955.

Elkins testified he was a "side-partner" in the Acme Amusement Co. (Please turn to page two)

Kidnaping Saddens New Jersey Town

BELLMAWN, N. J. (AP)—There was to be a banquet and dance here tonight but they have been postponed "for further notice."

The townspeople of Bellmawr don't feel like a gay time.

Blonde Mary Jane Barker, 4, disappeared last Monday morning while playing near her home. She hasn't been found and police believe it was a kidnaping.

The dance was to have been sponsored by the Jimmy Roe Trust Fund which is trying to raise $10,000 in behalf of a 13-year-old Bellmawr new boy injured by an automobile two days before last Christmas.

The banquet was to be for the installation of the fire department's new officers.

'Bomber' Is Insane But Faces Trial

NEW YORK (AP)—"Mad Bomber" George Metesky, although declared insane, must stand trial.

The 54-year-old Metesky, from Waterbury, Conn., freely admitted he planted 32 homemade bombs in New York City in 16 years.

Dr. John H. Cassidy, senior psychiatrist at Bellevue Hospital, said Metesky is a schizophrenic (split personality) and also suffers from paranoia—characterized by delusions of persecution and grandeur. No trial date was set.

Columbus To Vote On 'Fast' Time

COLUMBUS (AP)—City councilmen here are scheduled to vote Monday on a bill to make Daylight Savings Time a permanent part of the city charter.

The measure, submitted Thursday night, will appear on the May 7 primary ballot if council approves it. If voters approve it at the polls, the legislation specifies that all clocks controlled by the city be set ahead one hour at 2 a. m. May 12.

Fight over Milk Price

AT BRANCHVILLE, N. J., strikers and company employees wielded iron and fists as truckers tried to bring milk into the Sussex Milk and Cream Co. In top photo, a battle is in progress, while in lower photo, strikers dump contents of 86 milk containers. The milk boycott was called by a dairy farmers guild to force a 30 percent price boost for raw milk in the tri-state area of New York, New Jersey and Pennsylvania.

Kennedy Backing Ike's Resolution

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Kennedy (D-Mass.) cautioned today that defeat of the Middle East resolution would "embarrass" President Eisenhower in a time of crisis and "dismay" friendly nations in the area.

He said he would support the resolution despite his belief it is "an unnecessary error" supported only by "urgent pleas for speed and unanimity, exaggerated justifications and evasive testimony, without any demonstration of critical need."

Kennedy said that to keep the military authority and drop the economic provisions of the resolution would lead to "disastrous effects" on American leadership in the area.

He said American friends as well as Communist agitators would cite it as proof we think of the Middle East "only in terms of guns and bases and military allies against communism, not in terms of friendly people and their economic well-being."

Kennedy spoke out at an unusual 9 a. m. session as Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas as exerted new pressure in an effort to speed a vote.

KENNEDY JOINED with four other Democrats in opposition to a proposal to strip the resolution of presidential authority to spend up to $200 million in available foreign aid funds on a cash basis in the Middle East.

The others, all equally critical of the administration, were Senators Church (Idaho), Carroll (Colo.), Sparkman (Ala.) and Symington (Mo.).

The amendment, offered as a substitute for the resolution, would limit the resolution to a pledge of readiness to use troops to assist nations requesting help in resisting Red armed aggression in the Middle East.

Secretary of State Dulles sent two urgent letters to the Senate late Thursday opposing the substitute, which is now sponsored by Democratic Senators Russell (Ga.), Byrd (Va.), Stennis (Miss.) and Anderson (NM.).

Dulles gave assurances the economic assistance authority would not be used as a springboard for launching a Middle East spending program that ultimately will cost "billions of dollars," as Russell and his associates contend.

And he declared, none of the money would be used to help Egypt finance construction of its proposed Aswan dam. The United States joined Britain in 1955 in offering to help Egypt build the long-proposed high dam on the Nile River, but the offer was withdrawn last July after Egypt bought Russian arms.

Community Chest Participants To Get 38 Percent of Budgets

The nine organizations participating in the Community Chest here this year have received $10,546.37 and will get $8,557.38 during the coming year, Perse Harlow, executive-secretary, told the Chest directors at their meeting Thursday night.

This total payment of $19,103.75 will be 85 per cent of the amounts requested, because last summer's campaign raised only $19,797.97, which was $694.22 short of the $23,500 goal.

Harlow's financial statement showed expenses $1,047.92 and a reserve (assuming all pledges are paid) of $526.03.

Payments approved and amounts requested were:
Boy Scouts $3,672 of $4,320 request;

Camp Fire Girls $850 of $1,000; Community activity fund $1,275 of $1,500;

4-H club camp fund $425 of $500; Public park $1,275 of $1,500; Salvation Army $2,550 of $3,000; USO $425 of $500;

YWCA (Y-Teen clubs) $289 of $340; Girl Scouts $425 of $500; Red Cross $7,917.75 of $9,315.

REPRESENTATIVES of seven of the nine organizations participating in the Chest were at the meeting to tell the directors what has been accomplished during the past year and outline plans for the future.

Representing the Boys Scouts were George Inskip, district finance chairman, and C. O. Williams, district field executive;

The Girl Scouts were represented by Mrs. Roy Coe Jr. and Mrs. Margaret Woodson of Washington C. H. and Miss Carol Patter of Columbus, a council executive;

Community activity fund by John Breiner, Chamber of Commerce treasurer;

Camp Fire Girls by Mrs. Jane Kerns;

4-H club camp fund by County Agent W. W. Montgomery;

Public park by Robert A. Craig of the Recreation Commission;

Salvation Army by Robert Olinger, treasurer of the Fayette County unit;

Red Cross by Joseph Peters, president of the Fayette County chapter.

The USO and YWCA were not represented, but letters from each were read by Harlow.

Trucks Crash And Burn Near Madison Mills

Driver of One Fined
$25 and Costs in Municipal Court

Two truck cabs were demolished in a spectacular collision and fire on the CCC Highway about 2½ miles north of Madison Mills at 6:15 a. m. Friday.

The trucks, traveling in opposite directions at about 40 miles per hour, apparently sideswiped each other and skidded into opposite ditches, Sheriff Orland Hays said. The tires and part of the underpinning of one truck were burned off in a fire that started with the accident.

Fined $25 and costs for failing to yield the right of way in the wreck was Jack Mock, 23, of Alum Bank, Pa. Mock was the driver of the tractor-trailer which caught fire. He was not hurt.

Driver of the other truck was Ernest H. Scarff, 43, of Newport, Ky.

SCARFF'S TRUCK was carrying iron and steel plates from Newport to Cleveland. He was X-rayed for possible shoulder injuries at Memorial Hospital, but no fractures were found.

Mock, who was traveling from Philadelphia to Cincinnati, was carrying heavy machinery.

The fire was extinguished by the Mt. Sterling fire department.

Texas Probes Bribery in Lobby Case

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP)—Two newsmen were called today to testify before a committee of the Texas House of Representatives investigating a charge that a House member consented to accept a $5,000 bribe to withdraw a medical bill.

Rep. Wade Spilman of McAllen, committee chairman, said the witnesses today would include Ed Watson and Bill Bradford of the Conroe (Tex.) Daily Courier. The newsmen said the accused member, State Rep. James E. Cox, 36, of Conroe, told them he agreed to accept the money as part of a lobbyist trap.

House Speaker Waggoner Carr of Lubbock testified before the committee Thursday night and said Cox consulted with him about the alleged bribe offer. Carr said Cox wanted to kill himself after he agreed to take the bribe.

Cox was charged after Dr. Howard Harmon of San Antonio, president of the Texas Naturopathic Physicians Assn., presented to Carr a tape recording of an alleged conversation with Cox.

Dr. Harmon said Cox agreed to withdraw his bill that would put naturopaths out of business in Texas. Naturopaths use natural therapy in healing rather than drugs or surgery and are licensed under a statute that Cox's bill would have repealed.

Even if Congress did pass such legislation, he believes President Eisenhower would veto it.

ASKED WHAT prices he thinks the farmers should be guaranteed, he replied with this list of items (last September's actual average price in parentheses):

Wheat—$3.15 a bushel ($1.95); corn—$2.41 ($1.43); Milk—$6.50 a hundred weight ($4.17); beef cattle—$30 a hundred weight ($16.20); hogs—$32 a hundred weight ($15.50); eggs—68 cents a dozen (34 cents); chickens—43 cents a pound (17 cents).

Fichter described his rounds of Ohio congressional offices as in the nature of fact finding tours.

"We didn't try to put them on the spot or try pressure tactics," he said.

Unless something is done to change the current trend, Fichter went on, "We're going to lose the family farms and have nothing left but big farms."

"This feeling is reflected among the farmers themselves," he added. "A lot of them are trying to decide whether to sell out and leave. We're losing 100,000 small family farms a year."

Lindbergh Baby Kidnaped Just 25 Years Ago Tonight

HOPEWELL, N. J. (AP)—Twenty-five years ago tonight, Charles A. Lindbergh Jr. was kidnaped from his crib.

The intervening years have produced no evidence to challenge the state's theory that Bruno Richard Hauptmann perpetrated the nation's most famous kidnaping case.

H. Norman Schwarzkopf, who as head of the New Jersey state police directed the search which led to Hauptmann's arrest, observes today:

"Not only has there been no new evidence, but I do not see how there could be."

Hauptmann, a sullen 36-year-old Bronx, N. Y., carpenter, died in the electric chair for the crime, but not before New Jersey's governor, the late Harold G. Hoffman, intervened in his behalf.

Hoffman paid a secret visit to Hauptmann in the Trenton death house in his effort to get "a complete solution" of the case which he said "reeked of unfairness, prejudice and passion." He granted one 30-day reprieve, but apparently found no justification for a second.

Yet, shortly before his death in 1934, Hoffman had remarked, "I believe that the crime was committed by more than one person."

The Lindbergh kidnaping shocked the nation.

Charles A. Lindbergh, idolized since his solo flight across the Atlantic in 1927, had sought privacy in a new home in the Sourland Mountains here.

He and his wife, the former Anne Morrow, were in their 2½-story whitewashed house unexpectedly that raw, windy night of March 1, 1932, because their only son, Charles Jr., 19 months old, had a cold. They had spent a weekend there and delayed their return to the home of Mrs. Lindbergh's mother in Englewood.

As the Lindberghs talked in a downstairs room, they heard a noise which Lindbergh dismissed as a rustling of the wind. But he said later it sounded like "the top

Ohio Solons Said Pessimistic On Aid for 'Family Farmer'

WASHINGTON (AP)—An Ohio farm leader said today he found an "attitude of frustration and pessimism" among many legislators about getting new laws now to help the "family farmer."

Joseph W. Fichter of Oxford, chairman of the Ohio Farmers' Union, said this after talking with most of the Ohio House members and Sen. Lausche (D-Ohio).

After a tour of their offices with a delegation of about 25 members of his group, Fichter said he cannot see "any possibility of getting farm legislation through this Congress that would go to the heart of the farm problem."

What is needed, he said, is a farm bill that would give family farmers, in Ohio and elsewhere, prices on their commodities that would put them on a competitive level with industry and labor.

Even if Congress did pass such legislation, he believes President Eisenhower would veto it.

Text of a Fayette County Board of Education resolution covering commitments made at the close of litigation over formation of a Citizens Committee, was announced Thursday by County Superintendent W. J. Hilty, who act as board clerk.

The resolution was authorized at a board meeting last Saturday upon motion of Cloyd C. Craig. It was seconded by H. B. Lightle and approved unanimously.

The resolution says: "WHEREAS, the Fayette County Board of Education on Feb. 6, 1957, authorized the creation of a County Citizens' Committee, and

"WHEREAS, all school districts of Fayette County have joined in the creation of said Committee; and

"WHEREAS, the function of a County Citizens' Committee pursuant to Sec. 3311.30 Revised Code is to study the need of the reorganization of school districts and to make recommendations to the State Superintendent of Public Instruction, and slats of an orange box falling off a chair." He fixed the time at about 9:10.

Fifty minutes later, a nursemaid found the baby missing from his crib. On the window was a crude note demanding $50,000 ransom. On the ground nearby was a three-piece ladder—broken in one place—and a chisel.

They were the only clues, but they figured importantly in solving the case.

Through Dr. John F. Jafie Condon, an intermediary, Lindbergh paid the $50,000 ransom 'he night of April 2 in a Bronx cemetery to a man behind a hedge who directed, "Hey doctor, doctor, over here!"

The man behind the hedge passed to Dr. Condon a note as crudely written as previous ones which said, "The boy is on the boat Nelly."

Lindbergh was still seeking the boat off the Virginia Capes on May 12 when word came to him that the child's body had been found in a shallow grave five miles from home.

The search for the kidnaper was intensified.

Circulars carrying the serial numbers of the ransom money, $35,000 in gold certificates and $15,000 in other paper currency, were distributed throughout the nation. When President Roosevelt called in all gold certificates, a depression measure, banks quietly got a new alert to watch for ransom bills.

A motorist gave a $10 gold note to a Bronx gas station attendant on Sept. 14, 1934. The attendant jotted the auto license numbers on the bill. The trail led to Hauptmann, who was arrested four days later.

The state's star witness was Arthur Koehler, a wood technologist of the U. S. Forest Products Laboratory of Madison, Wis.

Koehler spent nearly two years tracing the wood in the kidnap ladder. He traced one piece from a lumber mill in South Carolina to the Bronx lumber yard where Hauptmann was a customer. He said another piece had once been part of a floor board in Hauptmann's attic. Koehler said also that the chisel found near the ladder had been used building it.

March Arrives Like Tame Lion

Some Blustery Notes
Seen in Eastern U. S.

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
March came into the weather picture a little on the blustery side in Ohio and the eastern quarter of the country today.

Here is the Ohio forecast for the next five days:

"Temperatures will average 2 to 4 degrees below normal; normal high 41 north to 48 south; normal low 25-29. Cold Saturday and Sunday, warmer Monday and Tuesday, colder again Wednesday.

"Snow flurries near Lake Erie Saturday, Sunday and possibly Wednesday. Rain likely in central and southern counties Wednesday. Total precipitation will average ¼ inch or less."

A storm off the East Coast advanced steadily northward Thursday night and spread freezing rain or sleet from eastern Ohio through Pennsylvania into southern New York and New England and southward into Virginia.

Weather bureaus issued warnings of hazardous driving conditions from Ohio across Pennsylvania and New York to southern New England.

THE FREEZING rain or sleet was expected to extend over most of the North Atlantic Coast states during the day. However, snow was indicated in the extreme north areas.

The country's other major wet belt was in the far Southwest.

Only other precipitation was in the form of light snow in northern Minnesota and snow flurries or freezing drizzle in sections of the northern Great Lakes.

Some warming occurred in the middle Mississippi Valley and Great Lakes region. No severe cold was reported in the area.

Gaza, Aqaba To Be Freed Under Proposal

Assembly Resolution To Be Obeyed by Palestine Government

UNITED NATIONS N. Y. (AP)—Israel was to go before the General Assembly today to spell out plans for withdrawing her troops from the Gaza Coast and the Gaza Strip. Strong Arab opposition was expected if qualifications were included.

A high diplomatic source said the Israelis would inform the 80-nation Assembly they would pull back all troops from the Sharm el Sheikh area of Aqaba and the Gaza Strip in line with Assembly resolutions of Feb. 2.

Representatives of the United States, France and other nations who support Israel's demand for shipping rights in the Gulf of Aqaba were scheduled to speak afterwards. They were expected to call for stationing of troops of the U.N. Emergency Force in the disputed area until there is no further danger of belligerent action.

The Western plan was said to include support for a U.N. military administration of Gaza until some new status for the strip can be worked out.

WASHINGTON informants said the United States and Israel have contacted a large number of governments in the last few days in effort to obtain wide backing for such a program. Advocates of the plan were said to feel if agreement could be obtained from enough countries before Israel could be reasonably certain of achieving its major objectives even though no formal guarantees were obtained from the United Nations or Egypt in advance of a troop withdrawal.

It appeared another General Assembly resolution would be necessary to authorize the U. N. force to stay in Gaza and along the Aqaba coast.

Arab sources in Cairo expressed doubt Egypt would agree to anything but the unconditional withdrawal of Israeli forces, contending that anything else would amount to "rewarding" Israel for her aggression against Egypt in her invasion last fall.

Israel's announcement that she would disclose her withdrawal plan brought a biting attack Thursday from Egyptian Foreign Minister Mahmoud Fawzi.

He warned that the pullout "must not be the outcome of a bargain made anywhere and in exchange of a price Israel may have been promised by a people who have no right to make any such promise."

Toledoan, 45, Hurts 4, Self In Gunplay

TOLEDO (AP)—A 45-year-old man, surprised by two patrolmen investigating a disturbance report, shot down the policemen, an aged woman and a young girl to-day and then wounded himself.

The man, construction worker Arnold Washington, was a roomer in the house where the shooting took place. The victims included his 75-year-old landlady and her 15-year-old niece.

One of the two patrolmen, Irvin Smith, 40, was taken to Mercy Hospital in critical condition. The other, Charles Diefenbach, 28, was taken to Mercy Hospital with a wound in the abdomen.

The landlady, Mrs. Mattie Lewis, shot two times in the lower abdomen, was in Maumee Valley Hospital. Her niece, Janice Neekans, also wounded, was in St. Vincent's Hospital.

Washington was taken to Flower Hospital, reportedly in poor condition with a head wound.

Police Chief Anthony Bosch said Smith and Diefenbach had gone to the home after Mrs. Lewis complained that Washington was running around naked.

Arriving there, Bosch said, the patrolmen found Washington fully clothed and talking over a telephone.

As the patrolmen entered, Washington whirled, drew a pistol from a pocket and started firing.

Trucks Crash And Burn Near Madison Mills

Driver of One Fined $25 and Costs in Municipal Court

Two truck cabs were demolished in a spectacular collision and fire on the CCC Highway about 2½ miles north of Madison Mills at 6:15 a. m. Friday.

The trucks, traveling in opposite directions at about 40 miles per hour, apparently sideswiped each other and skidded into opposite ditches, Sheriff Orland Hays said. The tires and part of the underpinned trailer of one truck were burned off in a fire that started with the accident.

Fined $25 and costs for failing to yield the right of way in the wreck was Jack Mock, 23, of Alum Bank, Pa. Mock was the driver of the tractor-trailer which caught fire. He was not hurt.

Driver of the other truck was Ernest H. Scarff, 43, of Newport, Ky.

SCARFF'S TRUCK was carrying iron and steel plates from Newport to Cleveland. He was X-rayed for possible shoulder injuries at Memorial Hospital, but no fractures were found.

Mock, who was traveling from Philadelphia to Cincinnati, was carrying heavy machinery.

The fire was extinguished by the Mt. Sterling fire department.

Texas Probes Bribery in Lobby Case

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Two newsmen were called today to testify before a committee of the Texas House of Representatives investigating a charge that a House member consented to accept a $5,000 bribe to withdraw a medical bill.

Rep. Wade Spilman of McAllen, committee chairman, said the witnesses today would include Ed Watson and Bill Bradford of the Conroe (Tex.) Daily Courier. The newsmen said the accused member, State Rep. James E. Cox, 36, of Conroe, told them he agreed to accept the money as part of a lobbyist trap.

House Speaker Waggoner Carr of Lubbock testified before the committee Thursday night and said Cox consulted with him about the alleged bribe offer. Carr said Cox wanted to kill himself after he agreed to take the bribe.

Cox was charged after Dr. Howard Harmon of San Antonio, president of the Texas Naturopathic Physicians Assn., presented to Carr a tape recording of an alleged conversation with Cox.

Dr. Harmon said Cox agreed to withdraw his bill that would put naturopaths out of business in Texas. Naturopaths use natural therapy in healing rather than drugs or surgery and are licensed under a statute that Cox's bill would have repealed.

Wild Driver, 32, Held as Drunk

TOLEDO (AP) — A motorist fleeing police paced a wild, 90-mile-an-hour chase through evening rush traffic Thursday.

The chase ended as the car careened across the Civic Center and stopped.

Howard W. Ross, 32, was charged with drunk driving. Police said he ran 18 red lights and narrowly missed having six head-on collisions.

The chase started when off-duty patrolman Chester Matuszak said he heard Ross tell two patrons in a tavern, "You have only 10 minutes to live." Matuszak tried to question him and Ross ran to his car and sped off.

Lindbergh Baby Kidnaped Just 25 Years Ago Tonight

HOPEWELL, N. J. (AP) — Twenty-five years ago tonight, Charles A. Lindbergh Jr. was kidnaped from his crib.

The intervening years have produced no evidence to challenge the state's theory that Bruno Richard Hauptmann perpetrated the nation's most famous kidnaping case.

H. Norman Schwarzkopf, who as head of the New Jersey state police directed the search which led to Hauptmann's arrest, observes today:

"Not only has there been no new evidence, but I do not see how there could be."

Hauptmann, a sullen 36-year-old Bronx, N. Y., carpenter, died in the electric chair for the crime, but not before New Jersey's governor, the late Harold G. Hoffman, intervened in his behalf.

Hoffman paid a secret visit to Hauptmann in the Trenton death house in his effort to get "a complete solution" of the case which he said "reeked of unfairness, prejudice and passion." He granted one 30-day reprieve, but apparently found no justification for a second.

Yet, shortly before his death in 1934, Hoffman had remarked, "I believe that the crime was committed by more than one person."

The Lindbergh kidnaping shocked the nation.

Charles A. Lindbergh, idolized since his solo flight across the Atlantic in 1927, had sought privacy in a new home in the Sourland Mountains here.

He and his wife, the former Anne Morrow, were in their 2½-story whitewashed house unexpectedly that raw, windy night of March 1, 1932, because their only son, Charles Jr., 19 months old, had a cold. They had spent a weekend there and delayed their return to the home of Mrs. Lindbergh's mother in Englewood.

As the Lindberghs talked in a downstairs room, they heard a noise which Lindbergh dismissed as a rustling of the wind. But he said later it sounded like "the top slats of an orange box falling off a chair." He fixed the time at about 9:10.

Fifty minutes later, a nursemaid found the baby missing from his crib. On the window was a crude note demanding $50,000 ransom. On the ground nearby was a three-piece ladder—broken in one place—and a chisel.

They were the only clues, but they figured importantly in solving the case.

Through Dr. John F. Jafie Condon, an intermediary, Lindbergh paid the $50,000 ransom "the night of April 2 in a Bronx cemetery to a man behind a hedge who directed, 'Hey doctor, doctor, over here!'"

The man behind the hedge passed to Dr. Condon a note as crudely written as previous ones which said, "The boy is on the boat Nelly."

Lindbergh was still seeking the boat off the Virginia Capes on May 12 when word came to him that the child's body had been found in a shallow grave five miles from home.

The search for the kidnaper was intensified.

Circulars carrying the serial numbers of the ransom money, $35,000 in gold certificates and $15,000 in other paper currency, were distributed throughout the nation. When President Roosevelt called in all gold certificates, a depression measure, banks quietly got a new alert to watch for ransom bills.

A motorist gave a $10 gold note to a Bronx gas station attendant on Sept. 14, 1934. The attendant jotted the auto license numbers on the bill. The trail led to Hauptmann, who was arrested four days later.

Ohio Solons Said Pessimistic On Aid for 'Family Farmer'

WASHINGTON (AP) — An Ohio farm leader said today he found an "attitude of frustration and pessimism" among many legislators about getting new laws now to help the "family farmer."

Joseph W. Fichter of Oxford, chairman of the Ohio Farmers Union, said this after talking with most of the Ohio House members and Sen. Lausche (D-Ohio).

After a tour of their offices with a delegation of about 25 members of his group, Fichter said he cannot see "any possibility of getting farm legislation through this Congress that would go to the heart of the farm problem."

What is needed, he said, is a farm bill that would give family farmers, in Ohio and elsewhere, prices on their commodities that would put them on a competitive level with industry and labor.

Even if Congress did pass such legislation, he believes President Eisenhower would veto it.

ASKED WHAT prices he thinks the farmers should be guaranteed, he replied with this list of items (last September's actual average price in parenthesis):

Wheat—$3.15 a bushel ($1.95); corn—$2.41 ($4.3); milk—$6.50 a hundred weight ($4.17); beef cattle—$30 a hundred weight ($16.20); hogs—$32 a hundred weight ($15.50); eggs—68 cents a dozen (34 cents); chickens—43 cents a pound (17 cents).

Fichter described his rounds of Ohio congressional offices as in the nature of fact finding tours. "We don't try to put them on the spot or try pressure tactics," he said.

Unless something is done to change the current trend, Fichter went on, "We're going to lose the family farms and have nothing left but big farms."

"This feeling is reflected among the farmers themselves," he added. "A lot of them are trying to decide whether to sell out and leave. We're losing 100,000 small family farms a year."

Despite a new two percent decline in the level of farm prices later. He had a $20 ransom gold note in his possession, and in his garage police found $14,600 more.

The state's star witness was Arthur Koehler, a wood technologist of the U. S. Forest Products Laboratory of Madison, Wis.

Koehler spent nearly two years tracing the wood in the kidnap ladder. He traced one piece from a lumber mill in South Carolina to the Bronx lumber yard where Hauptmann was a customer. He said another piece had once been part of a floor board in Hauptmann's attic. Koehler said also that the chisel found near the ladder had been used building it.

March Arrives Like Tame Lion

Some Blustery Notes Seen in Eastern U. S.

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
March came into the weather picture a little on the blustery side in Ohio and the eastern quarter of the country today.

Here is the Ohio forecast for the next five days:

"Temperatures will average 2 to 4 degrees below normal; normal high 41 north to 48 south; normal low 25-29. Cold Saturday and Sunday, warmer Monday and Tuesday, colder again Wednesday."

"Snow flurries near Lake Erie Saturday, Sunday and possibly Wednesday. Rain likely in central and southern counties Wednesday. Total precipitation will average ¼ inch or less."

A storm off the East Coast advanced steadily northward Thursday night and spread freezing rain or sleet from eastern Ohio through Pennsylvania into southern New York and New England and southward into Virginia.

Weather bureaus issued warnings of hazardous driving conditions from Ohio across Pennsylvania and New York to southern New England.

THE FREEZING rain or sleet was expected to extend over most of the North Atlantic Coast states during the day. However, snow was indicated in the extreme north areas.

The country's other major wet belt was in the far Southwest.

Only other precipitation was in the form of light snow in northern Minnesota and snow flurries or freezing drizzle in sections of the northern Great Lakes.

Some warming occurred in the middle Mississippi Valley and Great Lakes region. No severe cold was reported in the area.

Gaza, Aqaba To Be Freed Under Proposal

Assembly Resolution To Be Obeyed by Palestine Government

UNITED NATIONS N. Y. (AP) — Israel was to go before the General Assembly today to spell out plans for withdrawing her troops from the Gaza Strip, the Gaza Strip and the Gaza Strip. Strong Arab opposition was expected if qualifications were included.

A high diplomatic source said the Israelis would inform the 80-nation Assembly they would pull back all troops from the Sharm el Sheikh area of Aqaba and the Gaza Strip in line with Assembly resolutions of Feb. 2.

Representatives of the United States, France and other nations who support Israel's demand for shipping rights in the Gulf of Aqaba were scheduled to speak afterwards. They were expected to call for stationing of troops of the U.N. Emergency Force in the disputed areas until there is no further danger of belligerent action.

The Western plan was said to include support for a U.N. military administration of Gaza until some new status for the strip can be worked out.

WASHINGTON informants said the United States and Israel have contacted a large number of governments in the last few days in an effort to obtain wide backing for such a program. Advocates of the plan were said to feel if agreement could be obtained from enough countries behind Israel, it could be reasonably certain of achieving its major objectives even though no formal guarantees were obtained from the United Nations or Egypt in advance of a troop withdrawal.

It appeared another General Assembly resolution would be necessary to authorize the U. N. force to stay in Gaza and along the Aqaba coast.

Arab sources in Cairo expressed doubt Egypt would agree to anything but the unconditional withdrawal of Israeli forces, contending that anything else would amount to "rewarding" Israel for her aggression against Egypt in her invasion last fall.

Israel's announcement that she would disclose her withdrawal plan brought a biting attack Thursday from Egyptian Foreign Minister Mahmoud Fawzi.

He warned that the pullout "must not be the outcome of a bargain made anywhere and in exchange of a price Israel may have been promised by a people who have no right to make any such promise."

Toledoan, 45, Hurts 4, Self In Gunplay

TOLEDO (AP) — A 45-year-old man, surprised by two patrolmen investigating a disturbance report, shot down the policemen, an aged woman and a young girl to-day and then wounded himself.

The man, construction worker Arnold Washington, was a roomer in the house where the shooting took place. The victims included his 75-year-old landlady and her 15-year-old niece.

One of the two patrolmen, Irvin Smith, 40, was taken to Mercy Hospital in critical condition. The other, Charles Diefenbach, 28, was taken to Mercy Hospital with a wound in the abdomen.

The landlady, Mrs. Mattie Lewis, shot two times in the lower abdomen, was in Maumee Valley Hospital. Her niece, Janice Neekens, also wounded, was in St. Vincent's Hospital.

Washington was taken to Flower Hospital, reportedly in poor condition with a head wound.

Police Chief Anthony Bosch said Smith and Diefenbach had gone to the home after Mrs. Lewis complained that Washington was running around naked.

Arriving there, Bosch said, the patrolmen found Washington fully clothed and talking over a telephone.

As the patrolmen entered, Washington whirled, drew a pistol from a pocket and started firing.

The next largest amount was in 1949, the year the Community Chest was established here. That year, 2,066 contributions amounted to $14,226.83. In 1955, there were 2,915 contributors to a fund of $13,525.58.

The Red Cross is participating in the Community Chest this year for the first time. By coincidence, the report to the directors was made at the time the Red Cross campaign is getting under way in thousands of cities and communities across the country.

Reports of representatives of participating organizations at the Thursday night meeting of the board disclosed that literally hundreds of people, young and old, in Fayette County benefit from Community Chest support of the park, the youth organizations, Salvati on Army and Red Cross, Halloween celebration and fireworks display.

FIVE DIRECTORS for the Community Chest also were elected at this meeting. Chosen for their second three-year terms were Miss Mary Frances Snider and Donald Murdock and named for their first terms were Robert Boyd, Ed Vollette and Charles Fults.

Mrs. Arnold Grillo of the high school faculty, is the club advisor.

No 'Vengeance' Against Union

Judge Shuns Penalty
For Phone Strikers

PORTSMOUTH (AP) — "To sentence you at this date would be an act of vengeance."

So entoned Judge William D. Radcliff of Pickaway County when he declined to sentence 21 local members of the striking Communications Workers of America.

Judge Radcliff had been assigned to hear a case instigated by the Ohio Consolidated Telephone Co. against the CWA members who Wednesday signed a new contract with the firm ending a seven-month walkout.

The judge did assess the union the costs of the court hearing but declined to level further penalty against the unionists. They had been accused by the company of violating a court order limiting picketing on company property.

Meanwhile, things are getting back to normal in this city of 36,000.

NEARLY 1,000 telephones are back in order, and more are being fixed every day.

Hundreds of CWA members who were idle from July 15, when the strike started, until Thursday, when the company started rehiring, are back on the job. More are expected to re-apply for work before Sunday.

Sandbag barricades, erected to safeguard company property after a number of violent outbreaks, will be carted away soon.

The hospitals and the state highway patrol have had their telephone service repaired. Company officials say phones serving "health and welfare" get top priority for future repairs.

After that, business places downtown will have their phones repaired, and, a company spokesman said, in a few months, all of the area's 17,000 phones will be back in working order.

Meeting Is Held By Chaffin PTO

Teachers Explain
Routine to Parents

A "day in the life of a school child" was conducted for members of the Chaffin Parent-Teacher Organization at their regular meeting in the school.

Getting better acquainted with teachers and finding what children do at school were the aims of the teacher-conducted program.

Parents discussed homework, closer cooperation between parents and teachers, schoolwork and a variety of related problems affecting their youngsters.

The PTO voted to give a donation to the polo fund during the business session conducted by the president, Mrs. Ned Abbott.

A slide projector has been purchased for the school, it was announced at the meeting. The PTO previously voted $50 to start a slide library for the school.

Doughnuts, coffee and a round table discussion on school problems closed the meeting. Refreshments were served by Mr. and Mrs. Robert Haines and Mr. and Mrs. Gene Donahoe.

Community Chest

here. The $19,797.97 was contributed by 3,017 individuals, firms and organizations.

The next largest amount was in 1949, the year the Community Chest was established here. That year, 2,066 contributions amounted to $14,226.83. In 1955, there were 2,915 contributors to a fund of $13,525.58.

The Red Cross is participating in the Community Chest this year for the first time. By coincidence, the report to the directors was made at the time the Red Cross campaign is getting under way in thousands of cities and communities across the country.

Reports of representatives of participating organizations at the Thursday night meeting of the board disclosed that literally hundreds of people, young and old, in Fayette County benefit from Community Chest support of the park, the youth organizations, Salvati on Army and Red Cross, Halloween celebration and fireworks display.

FIVE DIRECTORS for the Community Chest also were elected at this meeting. Chosen for their second three-year terms were Miss Mary Frances Snider and Donald Murdock and named for their first terms were Robert Boyd, Ed Vollette and Charles Fults.

Other directors of the new board are Leonard Essman, president, Dr. John Richards, Russell Hinchee, John Breiner, H. F. (Bud) Schlue, Miss Louise Ritter, Mrs. Robert Caldwell, Homer Bireley, Mrs. W. P. Noble and Paul Rodenfels.

Those who went off of the board after Thursday night's meeting are Miss Edith Wilson, William A. Lovell, Miss Florence Cook, Lawrence Grim and Max Morrow.

It was testified Clyde Crosby, teamsters Oregon boss, put union picket around taverns and bars to compel them to throw out the pinball machines they had and install only machine bearing Teamsters Union insignia. Deliveries of beer and other supplies were blocked unless they complied.

Elkins has told in great detail about the alleged plan to take over Portland gambling and vice operations. He says he was "double crossed" and now wants to expose the others involved.

State indictments have been returned at Portland against Elkins and others said to have been involved, including William Langley, the district attorney.

Future Teachers Get Career Tips

Mrs. Jack White, home economics teacher, was the speaker at Thursday noon's meeting of the Future Teachers club of Washington C. H. High School. She described some of her experiences in college and gave the girls some tips on how to prepare themselves for a career in teaching.

Nancy Reno, club president, asked for volunteers to count sales tax stamps during free school periods and to sell used books April 6. The money from these two projects is to go into the scholarship fund that is awarded each year to a selected senior.

Mrs. Arnold Grillo of the high school faculty, is the club advisor.

No 'Vengeance' Against Union

Judge Shuns Penalty
For Phone Strikers

PORTSMOUTH (AP) — "To sentence you at this date would be an act of vengeance."

So entoned Judge William D. Radcliff of Pickaway County when he declined to sentence 21 local members of the striking Communications Workers of America.

Judge Radcliff had been assigned to hear a case instigated by the Ohio Consolidated Telephone Co. against the CWA members who Wednesday signed a new contract with the firm ending a seven-month walkout.

The judge did assess the union the costs of the court hearing but declined to level further penalty against the unionists. They had been accused by the company of violating a court order limiting picketing on company property.

Meanwhile, things are getting back to normal in this city of 36,000.

NEARLY 1,000 telephones are back in order, and more are being fixed every day.

Hundreds of CWA members who were idle from July 15, when the strike started, until Thursday, when the company started rehiring, are back on the job. More are expected to re-apply for work before Sunday.

Sandbag barricades, erected to safeguard company property after a number of violent outbreaks, will be carted away soon.

The hospitals and the state highway patrol have had their telephone service repaired. Company officials say phones serving "health and welfare" get top priority for future repairs.

After that, business places downtown will have their phones repaired, and, a company spokesman said, in a few months, all of the area's 17,000 phones will be back in working order.

Four other drivers forfeited bond on traffic charges. Floyd D. Drake, 40, of near Washington C. H., forfeited $15 on a speeding charge, while Robert Stearns, 58, of 1235 Paxton Rd., Cincinnati, forfeited $30 on the same charge.

Forfeiting $25 on a charge of permitting an unqualified person to drive was John W. Herbst, 31, of 476 Berkeley Rd., Columbus, while Daisy Herbst, 27, of the same address, forfeited $50 on a charge of driving without a license.

An announcement was made of forthcoming meetings and the junior leaders who are to assist with the program on the night of the meeting. They include: March 14 — Greene County Junior Leadership Club, Mary Lou Highfield and Roger Sollars; March 28 — Community Improvement — Bill Stoughton, speaker, Rosalyn Marting and Robbie Hagler; April 11 — Boy-Girl Relationships — Rev. Wes Clarke, Speaker, Brenda Rowe and Gene Gustin; April 25 — hayride and wiener roast — Joan Bonham and Mike Wagner; May 9 — Vocational Guidance — Cindy Schlichter and Larry Roush; June 13 — recreation — Jowanda Wilson and Dick Klever.

FRANK ALEXANDER announced some important Farm Bureau youth activities and their dates. They are April 6 — Recreation Clinic at Ohio State University; March 23 — one-day Youth Conference at New Carlisle, and April 10 — Youth Legislative Tour.

In the program discussion, the junior leaders decided they could be working with the following areas in the local 4-H club — project work, officers, project books, and recreation. Junior leaders, they believe, should strive to assist the advisor in maintaining discipline. Considerable time was spent in discussing specific methods of assisting in these areas.

The evening was concluded with square dancing. Dave Whiteside presided.

Round about Fayette County

By B. E. KELLEY

It is said that history repeats itself, and I am sure it has to some extent in Fayette County.

For instance the story of how Hercules turned a stream through Augean Stables to clean them has somewhat of a counter-part in this community, although there was no stable to clean.

When Route 22 East, was re-located some 30 years ago to eliminate two crossings of the Pennsylvania Railroad at Johnson's Crossing and the "high crossing" east of Compton Creek by building the road on the north side of the railroad for nearly a half mile, it was found necessary to literally move Compton Creek for 200 or 300 yards, and this was done.

Originally the creek swung southward until it paralleled the railroad, then turned abruptly and passed under the railroad.

The engineers decided to straighten the channel so the water would run straight through under the railroad, and the former highway bridges and make room for the highway. So a new channel was cut and the earth used in filling the old channel.

The highway now passes over what formerly was part of the creek bed.

There are other instances in which channels of streams have been changed somewhat to improve drainage and make highway or other improvements possible, but I believe the stream moving at Johnson's Crossing is the most notable instance in the county.

20 YEARS AGO

It was 20 years ago this week that a large part of Ohio, including Fayette County, was shaken by an earthquake which was found to center near Sidney. It was the second such quake in two years, and caused considerable alarm.

Twenty-five bids on property which was being liquidated in connection with the Ohio State and P&D Banks which closed during the depression, were turned down as being too low.

City Manager G. H. Sollars announced that under a new rule all utility companies and others must have a permit before digging into improved streets.

Ed Severs, 82, well known horseman, died. He owned such horses as "Wait and See", Jimmie Allen, "Groom" and "Highwood".

The U. S. government bought 1970 acres in lower Madison County for a resettlement project.

The cost of each pupil in the city schools during the previous year was $75.49.

Thousands of peach trees in the county were killed by low temperature.

The city sought $50,000 in WPA funds for improving streets.

Fayette County corn acreage was limited to 75,946 acres under government plan.

NO EXTENSION SOON

More than once over a period of years, plans have been suggested for extending East St. from the point where it ends alongside the Midland Grocery Co. building, to the west side of Paint Creek, where the street is resumed and continues on to Highland Avenue.

Not only would it be an expensive project, but for obvious reasons it probably would be impractical.

The obvious reasons are that it would be necessary to cross nine railroad tracks and also build a bridge across Paint Creek.

The crossing of railroad tracks for the most part, would be on an angle and would probably extend about 100 yards in making the various crossings.

Most of these tracks belong to the Pennsylvania Railroad. The tracks of the B&O and DT&I merge at the point of crossing at the east edge of Paint Creek.

Extension of the street would obviously be made much easier if the Pennsylvania Railroad is ever abandoned, and at the present time there certainly is no indication of that being done.

REGARDLESS OF SEASON

Regardless of the cold weather right now, first flowers, both wild and cultivated are in bloom.

In fact the first wild flower poked its blossoms above the surface of the boggy land where it grows, soon after February 1, and is continuing to bloom.

That is the "skunk cabbage" a very rare plant in Fayette County, for it grows in boggy places. I know of only two places in the county where it is found, and those are along Paint Creek in the Rock Bridge area.

Next wild flowers to bloom will be the dwarf white trillium, known as "wake robin," and the "harbinger of spring" or "pepper and salt". Also the hepaticas, or liverworts, of which there are few in the county.

First of the cultivated flowers to appear, a week or more ago, were the "snow daisies" which seem to defy the lower temperatures and go on blooming anyway.

HONOR MAN — Jack Greer, Jr., fireman, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl W. Greer, 622 Peabody Ave., city, and husband of the former Miss Mable I. Dillon, Bloomington, graduated as honor man in his class at the Boilermaker School, Great Lakes, Ill., Naval Training Center. His average for the course was 89.5. Greer has been assigned duty aboard the destroyer USS Isbell.

Cancer Crusade Plans Drafted

Quota of $5,000 Set for This Year

Plans for the Cancer Crusade here during April were drafted by the directors of the Fayette County unit of the American Cancer Society when they met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Reed, 615 Fairway Dr.

The quota for the fund-raising campaign, which is a part of the Crusade, is $5,000 this year. This was accepted by the board after it estimated that $2,500 will be needed for services to Fayette County patients this year.

The other half of the fund will go to the Ohio Division of the American Cancer Society to help finance research for preventive measures, treatments and cure.

The draft of the Crusade plans scheduled tag day on April 6; Cancer Sunday on April 8 and the report dinner on April 22.

The directors agreed that an effort would be made to complete as much as possible of the house-to-house canvass on Cancer Sunday in Washington C. H. and the villages of the county. However, in view of the time required to canvass the rural area of the county, the canvass of farm homes is to be extended through three more days, April 8-10.

During the business session conducted by Mrs. Howard S. Harper, unit president, reports were given by Treasurer Elmer Reed and the executive-secretary, Mrs. Reed.

The education committee reported that three films had been shown recently and expressed the hope that more organizations would avail themselves of the unit's library of films on cancer.

It also reported that the unit's projector had been loaned to other volunteer health agencies for showing films concerning their own health programs.

The service committee, headed by Mrs. Paul Pennington, reported the use of "cell examination tests" is increasing.

Miss Gretchen Darlington, senior nurse of the county Health Department, commented that the use of gauze dressings, abdominal pads and cotton balls by cancer patients here also is increasing. These are

Original Separation Papers Needed To Get Korean Bonus

Veterans of the Korean War should make certain they know where their original separation papers (form DD214) are if they want to get their state bonus, Bernard Witherspoon, the county's veterans service office, said.

If they have lost their original papers, he said, they should file now for an official copy form from the Army, Navy, Marine Corps, Coast Guard or Air Force.

The time for payment of the bonus has not yet been set, but Witherspoon suggested that veterans have the necessary papers at hand when the time comes to avoid undue delay.

Service officers of the various veterans organizations, such as the American Legion and Veterans of Foreign Wars—and the veterans service officer—can help prepare the necessary forms for applying for the bonus, he added.

According to the latest estimate, there are 711 Korean war veterans in Fayette County eligible for the bonus.

WITHERSPOON has received word from Gen. Chester W. Goble, director of Korean Conflict Compensation Fund (bonus fund), emphasizing the need for the original document, form DD214, showing the veterans' military service.

Gen. Goble stressed that "photostatic copies will not be satisfactory."

"Each veteran should already have recorded his original separation paper or papers with his county recorder. This protective service is still provided free for each veteran by Ohio law."

Gen. Goble explained that the original form DD214 to be filed with the application will be handled the same as the original documents were for the World War II bonus.

"They will be received by mail, opened, marked with a claim number and stamped 'Korean Conflict

Compensation Applied For' photocopied and returned to the veteran in a special envelope along with an acknowledgement and change of address form.

"Special pre-addressed envelopes marked 'do not bend' will be available for veterans to mail in their application," the director said.

GEN. GOBLE pointed out that members of the armed forces of the United States on active duty between June 25, 1950, and July 19, 1953 may be eligible for $10 a month compensation for domestic duty and $15 for foreign duty.

The term "armed forces of the United States" includes the Army of the United States, the United States Air Force, the United States Navy, the United States Marine Corps, the United States Coast Guard, the Army Nurse Corps and the Women's Army Corps.

The term does not include ROTC, Academy Cadets, American Red Cross, YMCA, the Salvation Army, the FBI or similar agencies and does not include any reserve duty for training purposes.

Less "Spenditis" and More Efficiency Sought

That Ohio must stand firm against increased state taxes has been indicated several times by Gov. C. William O'Neill, most recently when he told newsmen that the budget he submitted to the Ohio General Assembly will not require new or additional taxes.

It is to be hoped that the Governor will be able to hold fast to that principle in the face of the nation-wide sweep toward higher taxes and probably more inflation.

Most Ohioans will rejoice if Gov. O'Neill and the Ohio General Assembly will be firm in resisting the endless new demands from scores of sources for more money to use, often times for things that are not really needed.

Only recently the voters were asked in this state to approve heavy bond issues to correct various bad deficiencies in the state highway system and to enlarge overcrowded penal and state hospital plants. The public was sold on this idea because for many years the need for this was seen but the state officials hesitated about pushing such big projects while others, in some cases less needed, were put through because they attracted less public attention.

The public will be watching how Gov. O'Neill performs in holding down unnecessary and ever-expanding demands on Ohio's reserve finances and his ability to keep taxes to their present limits. One method of doing this will be to increase efficiency of state government, reduce costs, and not keep adding untold jobs. Another method will be for the Ohio Legislature to find some means to limit the swarms of lobbyists who are sweeping over legislators here and in other states and in Congress, using all manner of "spenditis" pressure to obtain results for the cause of this or that organization they represent. Overcoming this trouble, much of it due to selfish demands, will be a real job and requires courage of a high degree.

For one thing, it has been suggested, that the state might bring into being something on the order of the "Hoover Commission" which pointed out many ways in which the federal government could cut its expenses, but less than half of these recommendations have been acted upon, although some have been put in operation with good results.

State officials apparently are counting on continuing prosperity in our state Ohio's Treasurer Roger W. Tracey observed the other day: "With economists predicting good business conditions for 1957, it may be assumed that the current trend of sales tax collections may continue." His report for the preceding fiscal year ending last June shows that sales tax receipts totaled more than $230,000,000 or 11.7 per cent greater than for the year 1954-55.

Ohio government has become a billion-dollar business. Total transactions already exceed $2,245,000,000 annually. There is good reason to believe that substantial savings can be accomplished through coordination of some activities and the elimination of others. However, tax money is not "saved" by delaying plans for enlarging over-strained state facilities, but tax money can certainly be conserved by ensuring that it is invested only in essential services efficiently operated.

O'Neill's many friends believe he will use his influence to accomplish this.

How Sell $2 Million Gem?

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP)—How would you go about selling a $2 million diamond?

At the moment the only man alive who has this problem is Harry Winston.

Out of a dull 426-carat stone scuffed from the earth of South Africa he has pared "Miss Nameless," a 128 1/2-carat tear-shaped diamond which he says has no equal anywhere in the world for purity and brilliance.

So he has hung a price tag of $2 million on this shiny pebble which weighs less than an ounce—so light that even George Washington probably couldn't throw it across the Rappahannock in the middle of a drought.

Obviously, in peddling big diamonds, patience helps. You don't have to heat off the customers with pick handles.

Winston might possibly sell his diamond if he put it in the window with a special sign: "Today's special—two million dollar diamond marked down to $1,999,998.98."

It might help if he'd even give trading stamps. Then a buyer could brag, "sure, it's a nice diamond for two million—but look, I also got, absolutely free, this automatic electric toaster that would cost you $23.95 anywhere!"

But Winston plans no such surefire merchandising gimmicks.

"Frankly, I doubt if I can sell the diamond in this country because of the tax situation," he said. "The 10 per cent federal tax would add $200,000 to the cost. And a New York City resident would have to pay $60,000 more because of the 3 per cent city sales tax.

"The real market for a big diamond is in Europe, South America, or the Middle East."

The biggest possible prospect in the Middle East, of course, is King Saud of Arabia, the only man in the world who is said to dream of buying Texas outright. Suppose you had Winston's problem. How would you go about disposing of a $2 million diamond?

To the reader who sends in the best suggestion (in the opinion of this writer), a grand grabbag prize will be awarded consisting of a picture of "Miss Nameless," a free speck of diamond dust, guaranteed to be genuine, and a photo of Elvis Presley, decorated with a hand-drawn mustache by a professional artist.

Uninformed Mass Opinion

By George Sokolsky

There seems to be a growing belief that opinion must be formed or informed and that the uneducated masses do not know enough to make any sense.

Those who think this way have to explain how it happens that so large a part of the American population have gone to high school and some kind of college in this generation.

Do they assert that in the good, old days when so few had college education that the majority of our people were better informed than they are today? Or is this an admission of the failure of our educational institutions?

Also, the assumption that the people are so uninformed is a criticism of our newspapers, magazines, radio and television than ever before. Is it not rather that most hard-headed, practical citizens find their own conclusions from the data presented to them?

Dean Edward W. Barrett of the Graduate School of Journalism at Columbia University has stated the case of the well-informed versus the uninformed better than I had ever seen it done. He said:

"I, for one, shudder at what might happen if some new mountebank, as a temporarily persuasive, as a Joe McCarthy, should arise and start inflaming our highly vocal but ill-informed citizens on the delicate issues that he ahead. That is why, just as De Toqueville feared the 'Tyranny of the Majority,' men like Walter Lippmann today see domination by uninformed mass opinion as a grave threat."

However, it is the mass opinion, informed or uninformed, which is bound to prevail in all but totalitarian countries. The question then is whether it is necessary to change our form of government and to limit the rights of the people so that instead of uninformed mass opinion, we shall be governed by informed elite opinion.

And what evidence is there to establish the assurance that the informed can also think well and competently? For instance, it is not difficult to become informed about Arab history and literature or even to learn to read and speak Arabic, Aramaic and Hebrew. But does that have any relationship to wisdom or judgment or the emotional quality of patriotism?

I am making no defence of ignorance, but I must ask why even in Soviet Russia where the government need pay no attention to public opinion, informed or uninformed, they have not entrusted their government to a council of experts but rather to two roughneck politicians such as Khrushchev and Bulganin.

There is a vast hiatus between the capacity to mass information and the ability to think out problems. Such a statesman as Sir Winston Churchill is not an expert in many fields. He could hire these experts who briefed him as to the facts, but it takes judgment, imagination, precision, wisdom to see the consequences of a political action may be decades after the action was initiated.

Perhaps that explains why Stalin was able to increase the territory of Russia beyond the dreams of Peter the Great. Khrushchev was undoubtedly of a coward, but Stalin fought a winning war, and if Americans wish to claim that they won the war for Stalin, it can be said for him that he knew how to hornswoggle the United States into doing it and into giving him 11 billion dollars.

Who is informed and who is uninformed? In the area of the world which I know best, I read the names of persons as experts whose judgment has not been as sound as that of a merchant buying handkerchiefs and underwear in Swatow.

The difference between a footnote reader and one who has to deal closely with a people is that the former believes what an established name has cited as a truth, even though the established name is only quoting another established name, whereas the latter had had to learn the psychology of a people to be able to deal with them.

When Michael Borodin came to China in 1924 to rule it, which he managed to do for nearly three years, he hardly knew anything about the people or the country. He knew no dialect of Chinese and spoke through an interpreter. But he was a born psychologist. Borodin had the advantage of being a revolutionist by profession in a country that wanted a revolution.

Fostoria Leader Due for Retirement

FOSTORIA (AP)—Hal E. Stout, a hospital superintendent whose career includes jobs as a newspaperman, mayor and councilman, leaves Fostoria today to make his home in Florida.

Stout says his work as superintendent of Fostoria City Hospital has become too much for him because of the hospital's limited facilities.

He and his wife will do publicity work for the University of Tampa until he is 65 next September when they will move to a house they have purchased at Carabella, near Tallahassee.

Food Plan for Child May Run into Snags

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN

Let's be practical about this business of eating the proper foods every day.

The bold truth, as every mother well knows, is that children just aren't going to do it, no matter how important the doctor says it is.

Off Days

Every child has an "off" day. That's to be expected; but don't make it worse by insisting that he should eat all the food you think he must have.

It won't hurt him to miss some or even most of these essential foods for one day. In fact, you'll probably do more harm by nagging him to eat.

But if he begins refusing certain foods day after day, that's something else again.

Necessary Foods

Each day—with a few exceptions, as I have said—your youngster should have a minimum of two glasses of milk, one egg, a potato and at least one or two green or yellow vegetables, at least one serving of meat, cheese or beans, two servings of fruit juice or whole fruit juice or whole fruit, some whole grain or enriched bread and cereal and butter or fortified margarine.

Take Action

When he starts turning down these foods repeatedly, you've got to take some action.

For one thing, don't let anyone at the table—father, sisters, brothers, even yourself—refuse to eat the dishes you want your youngster to eat. Children love to imitate others. Don't even discuss your likes and dislikes at the dinner table.

Vary the Menu

Try serving your vegetable and meat dishes a little differently. You'll find several good suggestions in your cook book. After all, we all get tired of the same food prepared in the same way.

Serve new dishes, too. Offer them to your youngster in small amounts at first and if he doesn't take to them right away, don't force them down his throat. Wait a few weeks and then try them again.

Milk Drinks

One more thing. Many parents have trouble getting their children to drink enough milk. Usually, if it is both fresh and cold, kids love it. But if your child doesn't give him flavored milk drinks once in a while. And see that you use plenty of milk in preparing creamed soups, vegetables and desserts. Then he'll get it one way or another.

QUESTION AND ANSWER

V. L.: About once a week my husband wakes up at night with a dry cough. This cough lasts about five minutes. He is cutting down on cigarettes. What causes the cough?

Answer: The condition you describe could be due to excessive smoking, or a condition which has been called "smoker's asthma." However, it would be advisable for him to have a careful examination.

Schools To Receive $45 Million Fund

COLUMBUS (AP)—Ohio will distribute $45,217,924 to school districts this week.

R. M. Eyman, state superintendent of public instruction, said that figure represents the first quarterly distribution of state funds. Of that amount, $34,419,195 goes directly to school districts. The balance represents obligations of school districts which the state pays directly and money that will go into a trust account for buying school buses.

Housewife Saves Pair from Fire

DAYTON (AP)—Firemen credited a 33-year-old housewife with saving the lives of Walter Blesi, 67, and his wife, Bethel, 63, when fire swept their Dayton home Thursday.

Firemen said Mrs. Mary Hacho, a neighbor, was returning home when she noticed smoke seeping from the Blesi house.

She found Blesi lying unconscious on the living room couch and dragged him to safety, then with an unidentified man, reentered the burning house and helped carry Mrs. Blesi out.

The couple was not burned but suffered smoke inhalation.

On Oct. 11, 1910 Theodore Roosevelt became the first U. S. President to fly.

You Need The Church-The Church Needs You GOOD POLICING-

is good preaching. Good preaching is also good policing. Either would suffer much more trouble without the other. Society has placed in the hands of its honored judges and police officers the power on which we all must lean for protection, security, peace and justice. You and I and 160,000,000 people speak in the voice of the judge, and we walk with the guardian of peace as he covers his beat. A good police officer is steady and strong and is waiting to be your friend. He may help the pastors preach as well as the pastors may help control his beat. Here he is passing on to interested youngsters the wisdom of going straight. It is better to be in the hands of Him than to be in the handcuffs of the law. Let the church help you keep your life clean and your direction straight. Attend regularly.

30 Players Still Listed As Holdouts

3 Braves now Arguing With Milwaukee Boss; Lone Dodger Missing

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Nearly 30 players assumed the traditional "holdout" role today as the major league clubs officially opened the spring training season.

Milwaukee Braves, beginning a campaign for their first pennant since moving the franchise to the Midwest, were minus three important regulars — 19-game winner Lew Burdette, relief pitcher Ernie Johnson and center fielder Billy Bruton. All were in camp at Bradenton.

On the other hand, Brooklyn's National League pennant winners needed to sign only Sandy Amoros to complete their roster. The other six senior circuit members had all players present and accounted for.

Amoros arrived at Vero Beach Thursday. But Vice President Buzzy Bavasi, who handles contracts, was out of town.

The American League picture was quite different. The world champion New York Yankees signed Don Larsen to close their ledgers Thursday. But the other seven clubs still had more than 20 blank contracts.

Heading the list in number was Cleveland with five, but shortstop Chico Carrasquel was the only missing regular. Rudy Regalado, who has received numerous trials, and pitchers Dick Tomcenek, John Gray and Ed Gasque were still unsigned.

Sammy White, a catcher, infielder Billy Klaus and outfielders Jim Piersall and Gene Stephens have not come to terms with the Boston Red Sox.

Southpaw Billy Hoelt was considered Detroit's biggest problem. But Eddie Robinson and outfielder Gil Coan were still unsigned. Kansas City's headaches were pitcher Maury McDermott, recently acquired in a multiplayer deal with the Yankees, pitcher Tom Morgan, infielder Hec Lopez and catcher Hal Smith.

Baltimore's Willie Miranda, who hasn't been heard from since he returned his first contract unsigned in January is the Orioles' only holdout.

Washington listed outfielder Roy Sievers, Clint Courtney and pitcher Elio Hernandez among the unsigned. Chicago's worries were pitcher Ellis Kinder, who is reported to have agreed to terms but has not officially inked his contract, pitcher Jim McDonald and infielder Tommy Brown.

Larsen, the unpredictable righty who pitched the only perfect game in World Series history against the Brooklyn Dodgers last year, signed for an estimated $6,000 increase over his 1956 salary of about $12,000.

Washington enlisted pitcher Chuck Stobbs, who had a 15-13 record last season, third baseman Eddie Yost and rookie outfielder Neil Chrisley. Boston inked Ted Lepcio, Detroit got the nod from rookie outfielder Roy Haves and Pittsburgh signed outfielder Lee Walls.

Milwaukee came to terms with outfielder Wes Covington and first baseman Frank Torre and Baltimore signed Bob Nieman.

Avila Shows Up Early with Tribe

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — For the first season since he signed with the Cleveland Indians in 1949, second baseman Bobby Avila showed up early for spring training Thursday.

A holdout most of the time, Avila in past years has been the last to sign and the last to arrive in camp.

Bulldogs Play Tonight--Lions Saturday Night

The classy class A Bulldogs from Bloomingburg will go into the second round of the South-eastern district basketball tournament tonight at 8:30 p. m. in the Clay High School Gym, Scioto County. The Bulldogs will meet a fast-moving Fairland team that has a 21-2 season's record.

To get to Clay, fans should drive south out of Chillicothe on Route 23 until they are just two miles north of the Portsmouth city line. It is on the east side of the highway about 5 miles south of Lucasville.

THE LIONS of Washington C. H. High School will play Worthington's Cardinals in their second Central district class AA tournament game at 7 p. m. Saturday in the Capital University gym at Columbus.

The Lions, with an 11-6 record, won their opener Wednesday night, 52 to 44, from Ulica, Worthington (15-4) edged Columbus West, 56-52, in its first game.

To get to Capital University from here, drive east on Main St. clear through Columbus to Bexley. The university is on the south (right) side of the street.

Tarheels Set For Big Test Against Duke

NEW YORK (AP)—There is still another river to cross tonight for North Carolina, the nation's top-ranked college basketball team.

The Tarheels take their glittering 23-0 record into the camp of their rival Duke in their final test before the March 7-9 Atlantic Coast Conference tourney.

The game will be the first of two ACC battles that will attract the national spotlight over the weekend. Saturday night South Carolina entertains Clemson in a game that will be chiefly notable for the pressure it puts upon the Gamecocks' Grady Wallace, the nation's leading scorer.

Wallace must protect his 30.48 point per game average against the 30.05 mark registered by Joe Gibbon of Mississippi, who ended his collegiate career Thursday night by scoring 25 points as Mississippi lost to Mississippi State 81-73 in the Southeastern Conference.

All eyes were upon Gibbon Thursday night but the winners' Jim Ashmore stole the scoring show with a 37-point outburst. The spurge pushed Ashmore's regular-season total to 709 points, three more than the Southeastern record Bob Pettit set for Louisiana State in 1954.

Boudreau Pleased With His Hurlers

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Manager Lou Boudreau is quite pleased with the progress his Kansas City Athletics pitchers have shown in pre-season drills.

Boudreau said on the first day of full scale drills his only concern is in trying to hold back some of the hurlers.

The A's open regular drills with pitchers Tom Morgan and Mickey McDermott the only unsigned players. Both came to the Athletics recently in a swap with the New York Yankees.

Kluszewski Hip Said Healed now

And for emphasis Thursday at opening of Redleg spring training, the chunky first-baseman started batting practice hitting the ball with what looked like his old home run hitting form.

Carol Heiss Keeps Title as Skate Queen

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (AP)—Bubbling 17-year-old Carol Heiss still rules the women's figure skaters of the world today with no one in sight offering a serious challenge.

The blonde from Ozone Park, N. Y., successfully defended her international championship Thursday night, receiving the first place vote from each of seven judges.

"I'm just as excited at winning this time as I was last year," the youngster said after her victory. "The only thing I miss is my mother not being here. She would have enjoyed it so much."

Carol's mother, who saw her capture her first world title in Germany last year, died in November.

Second place went to European champion Hans Eigel, 17, from Vienna, Austria, as she beat out her 16-year-old teammate, Ingrid Wendt, with a superior free skate program.

The United States and Austria dominated the competition, with seven of the first eight places.

Uncle Sam's skaters also stood an odds-on chance of grabbing off the men's singles title. David Jenkins of Colorado Springs held first place with 238.5 points, three of six compulsory figures. The skating king will be determined Saturday night and the 20-year-old colorado rates as favorite to succeed his brother, Hayes Alan Jenkins, who retired this year.

Brooklyn Plans To Unveil Clown

VERO BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Sunday will be a memorable day at the Brooklyn Dodgers baseball training camp.

Not only will the National League champions play their first practice game of the spring training season, they will unveil the club clown—Emmett Kelly.

Ohio Cities Urged Sponsor Pan-Am

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Bow (R-Ohio) propo today that the 1959 Pan-American games be conducted jointly in such cities as Canton, Cleveland, Akron, Youngstown and possibly Columbus. The games are scheduled to be held in Cleveland, with U. S. and Latin American team participation.

But there are strong indications that this plan may have to be cancelled if Congress refuses to approve a $5 million appropriation for the affair.

Bow said Akron and Canton has a big field house. For a suitable swimming pool, he said, the games' sponsors might have to go to Ohio State University.

Syracuse Trips Fort Wayne Pros

NEW YORK (AP)—The Syracuse N.Y.s, currently the hottest team in the league National Basketball Assn., toppled Fort Wayne's western division leaders Thursday night, 123-112. The victory was the Nats' seventh in their last eight games.

Before Syracuse tightened its grip on third place — the last playoff position in the eastern division — fourth-place New York shaded the high-flying Boston Celtics 122-121 in overtime. In Philadelphia, the second-place Warriors rolled to a 129-112 victory over Minneapolis, cutting Boston's first place margin to 6½ games.

The National Football League drafted five Syracuse football players—Jim Brown, Jim Ridlon, Bill Brown, Jerry Cashman and Don Althouse.

Longden Wins For 5000th Time on Track

ARCADIA, Calif. (AP) — Jockey Johnny Longden went back to work as usual today, totally unimpressed with the thought that a man who had ridden his 5000th winner on a race track should take holiday.

The galloping grandpappy reached the miracle figure in the fourth race at Santa Anita Thursday, another bright milestone in his 30 years of racing.

Is he ready to hang up his tack? "Now, I'm just starting now," quipped 47-year-old John Eric.

Longden got No. 5,000 by his ride aboard "ravis M. Kerr's Bente," he favorite.

The race, his third of the wet, sloppy afternoon, was a head-to-head duel between Bente and Flying Finish II all the way for the six furlong.

No. 5,000 was Longden's 25,706th mount and the win brought his purse earnings to a staggering $16,787,280. The amount of money represents that scored only on the North American continent.

His total wins include victories in seven countries — the United States, England, Scotland, Ireland, Canada, Australia and Mexico.

The son of a coal miner from Wakefield, Eng., a coal miner himself as a youngster in Taber, Canada, Johnny rode many winners on the beach tracks of the northwest which don't show on the record books.

His first thoroughbred winner was in 1927 at Salt Lake City.

Yale is Cornell's oldest basketball rival. They first met in 1899 at Poughkeepsie, N.Y.

Mayfield, Palmer Lead Baton Rouge

BATON ROUGE, La. (AP)—Husky Shelley Mayfield and slender Arnold Palmer, each trying to start a winning streak, led the field today into the second round of the 5,000 Baton Rouge Open Golf Tournament.

Both fired 4-under-par 68s Thursday for a 1-stroke edge over the field.

Mayfield, 33, playing out of Westbury, N. Y., is out to win his second Baton Rouge Open.

Palmer, 27-year-old former national amateur champion playing out of Latrobe, Pa., won the $30,000 Houston Open Monday.

PGA Tournament Scores Below Par

NEW YORK (AP)—The PGA probably wouldn't admit it, and neither would the veterans who are trying to stave off the surge of new talent, but the winning scores in eight tournaments so far indicate the tourists are playing the worst golf in four years.

The best 72-hole scores posted so far were 289s by Dow Finsterwald, a 27-year-old Ohioan, and Don Whitte, a 26-year-old Californian, in the Tucson Open. They didn't come within five strokes of matching the winning 264 in the same tournament a year ago.

Gonsalves Listed As Underdog

NEW YORK (AP)—Although he has an unbeaten streak of 13 and is the third-ranking lightweight contender, boxing stylist Johnny Gonsalves of Oakland, Calif., is a 7-5 underdog to unranked Paolo Rosi for their fight tonight.

The two lean 135-pounders will clash in a 10-rounder at Madison Square Garden over NBC TV-radio at 10 p. m.

Rosi, a bony-faced, 29-year-old puncher, has been made the betting choice on the strength of his right hand. The New Yorker, however, cuts easily around the eyes. His record is 23-4.

30 Players Still Listed As Holdouts

3 Braves now Arguing With Milwaukee Boss; Lone Dodger Missing

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Nearly 50 players assumed the traditional "holdout" role today as the major league clubs officially opened the spring training season.

Milwaukee Braves, beginning a campaign for their first pennant since moving the franchise to the Midwest, were minus three important regulars — 19-game winner Lew Burdette, relief pitcher Ernie Johnson and center fielder Billy Bruton. All were in camp at Bradenton.

On the other hand, Brooklyn's National League pennant winners needed to sign only Sandy Amoros to complete their roster. The other six senior circuit members had all players present and accounted for.

Amoros arrived at Vero Beach Thursday. But Vice President Buzzy Bavasi, who handles contracts, was out of town.

The American League picture was quite different. The world champion New York Yankees signed Don Larsen to close their ledgers Thursday. But the other seven clubs still had more than 20 blank contracts.

Heading the list in number was Cleveland with five, but shortstop Chico Carrasquel was the only missing regular. Rudy Regalado, who has received numerous trials, and pitchers Dick Tomaneck, John Gray and Ed Gasque were still unsigned.

Sammy White, a catcher, infielder Billy Klaus and outfielders Jim Piersall and Gene Stephens have not come to terms with the Boston Red Sox.

Southpaw Billy Hoelt was considered Detroit's biggest problem. But Eddie Robinson and outfielder Gil Coan were still unsigned. Kansas City's headhachings were pitcher Maury McDermott, recently acquired in a multiplayer deal with the Yankees, pitcher Tom Morgan, infielder Hec Lopez and catcher Hal Smith.

Baltimore's Willie Miranda, who hasn't been heard from since he returned his first contract unsigned in January, is the Orioles' only holdout.

Washington listed outfielder Roy Sievers, Clint Courtney and pitcher Elevio Hernandez among the unsigned. Chicago's worries were pitcher Ellis Kinder, who is reported to have agreed to terms but has not officially inked his contract, pitcher Jim McDonald and infielder Tommy Brown.

Larsen, the unpredictable righty who pitched the only perfect game in World Series history against the Brooklyn Dodgers last year, signed for an estimated $6,000 increase over his 1956 salary of about $12,000.

Washington enlisted pitcher Chuck Stobbs, who had a 15-15 record last season, third baseman Eddie Yost and rookie outfielder Neil Chrissy. Boston inked Ted Lepcio, Detroit got the nod from rookie outfielder Roy Hawes and Pittsburgh signed outfielder Lee Walls.

Milwaukee came to terms with outfielder Wes Covington and first baseman Frank Torre and Baltimore signed Bob Nieman.

Avila Shows Up Early with Tribe

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — For the first season since he signed with the Cleveland Indians in 1949, second baseman Bobby Avila showed up early for spring training Thursday.

A holdout most of the time, Avila in past years has been the last to sign and the last to arrive in camp.

Bulldogs Play Tonight--Lions Saturday Night

The classy class A Bulldogs from Bloomingburg will go into the second round of the Southeastern district basketball tournament tonight at 8:30 p. m. in the Clay High School Gym, Scioto County. The Bulldogs will meet a fast-moving Fairland team that has a 21-2 season's record.

To get to Clay, fans should drive south out of Chillicothe on Route 23 until they are just two miles north of the Portsmouth city line. It is on the east side of the highway about 5 miles south of Lucasville.

THE LIONS of Washington C. H. High School will play Worthington's Cardinals in their second Central district class AA tournament game at 7 p. m. Saturday in the Capital University gym at Columbus.

The Lions, with an 11-4 record, won their opener Wednesday night, 52 to 44, from Utica, Worthington (15-4) edged Columbus West, 56-52, in its first game.

To get to Capital University from here, drive east on Main St. clear through Columbus to Bexley. The university is on the south (right) side of the street.

Tarheels Set For Big Test Against Duke

NEW YORK (AP)—There is still another river to cross tonight for North Carolina, the nation's top-ranked college basketball team.

The Tarheels take their glittering 23-0 record into the camp of their rival Duke in their final test before the March 7-9 Atlantic Coast Conference tourney.

The game will be the first of two ACC battles that will attract the national spotlight over the weekend. Saturday night South Carolina entertains Clemson in a game that will be chiefly notable for the pressure it puts upon the Gamecocks' Grady Wallace, the nation's leading scorer.

Wallace must protect his 30.48 point per game average against the 30.05 mark registered by Joe Gibbon of Mississippi, who ended his collegiate career Thursday night by scoring 25 points as Mississippi lost to Mississippi State 81-73 in the Southeastern Conference.

All eyes were upon Gibbon Thursday night but the winners' Jim Ashmore stole the scoring show with a 37-point outburst. The splurge pushed Ashmore's regular-season total to 709 points, three more than the Southeastern record B. P. Pettit set for Louisiana State in 1954.

Innocence Claimed

HAMILTON (AP) — Raymond L. Tate, 33, of nearby Middletown pleaded innocent Thursday at arraignment on robbery and abduction indictments in connection with an $8,000 robbery of a dairy here Feb. 3.

Syracuse University has been competing in intercollegiate wrestling since 1922.

Boudreau Pleased With His Hurlers

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Manager Lou Boudreau is quite pleased with the progress his Kansas City Athletics pitchers have shown in pre-season drills.

Boudreau said on the first day of full scale drills his only concern is in trying to hold back some of the hurlers.

The A's open regular drills with pitchers Tom Morgan and Mickey McDermott the only unsigned players. Both came to the Athletics recently in a swap with the New York Yankees.

Kluszewski Hip Said Healed now

TAMPA, Fla. (AP)—Ted Kluszewski, batting question mark for Cincinnati's Redlegs since last season's hip injury, says he's taken off weight and the ailment has disappeared.

And for emphasis Thursday at opening of Redleg spring training, the chunky first-baseman started batting practice hitting the ball with what looked like his old home run hitting form.

Carol Heiss Keeps Title as Skate Queen

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (AP)—Bubbling 17-year-old Carol Heiss still rules the women's figure skaters of the world today with no one in sight offering a serious challenge.

The blond from Ozone Park, N. Y., successfully defended her international championship Thursday night, receiving the first place vote from each of seven judges.

"I'm just as excited at winning this time as I was last year," the youngster said after her victory. "The only thing I miss is my mother not being here. She would have enjoyed it so much."

Carol's mother, who saw her capture her first world title in Germany last year, died in November.

Second place went to European champion Ha. Eigel, 17, from Vienna, Austria, as she beat out her 16-year-old teammate, Ingrid Wendt, with a superior free skate program.

The United States and Austria dominated the competition, with seven of the first eight places.

Uncle Sam's skaters also stood an odds-on chance of grabbing off the men's singles title, David Jenkins of Colorado Springs held first place with 298.5 points, three of six compulsory figures. The skating king will be determined Saturday night and the 20-year-old collegian rates as favorite to succeed his brother, Hayes Alan Jenkins, who retired this year.

Brooklyn Plans To Unveil Clown

VERO BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Sunday will be a memorable day at the Brooklyn Dodgers baseball training camp.

Not only will the National League champions play their first active game of the spring training season, they will unveil the club clown—Emmett Kelly.

Ohio Cities Urged Sponsor Pan-Am

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Bow (R-Ohio) propo today that the 1959 Pan-American games be conducted jointly in such cities as Canton, Cleveland, Akron, Youngstown and possibly Columbus. The games are scheduled to be held in Cleveland, with U. S. and Latin American team participating.

But there are strong indications that this plan may have to be cancelled if Congress refuses to approve a $5 million appropriation for the affair.

Bow said Akron has its huge Rubber Bowl and Canton has a big field house. For a suitable swimming pool, he said, the games' sponsors might have to go to Ohio State University.

Syracuse Trips Fort Wayne Pros

NEW YORK (AP)—The Syracuse N. Y., currently the hottest team in the league National Basketball Assn., toppled Fort Wayne's western division leaders Thursday night, 123-112. The victory was the Nats' seventh in their last eight games.

Before Syracuse tightened its grip on third place — the last playoff position in the eastern division — fourth-place New York shaded the high-flying Boston Celtics 122-121 in overtime. In Philadelphia, the second-place Warriors rolled to a 129-112 victory over Minneapolis, cutting Boston's first place margin to 6½ games.

The National Football League drafted five Syracuse football players—Jim Brown, Jim Riddle, Bill Brown, Jerry Cashman and Don Althouse.

Longden Wins For 5000th Time on Track

ARCADIA, Calif. (AP)—Jockey Johnny Longden went back to work as usual today, totally unimpressed with the thought that a man who had ridden his 5000th winner on a race track should take holiday.

The galloping grandpappy reached the miracle figure in the fourth race at Santa Anita Thursday, another bright milestone in his 30 years of racing.

Is he ready to hang up his tack? "Now, I'm just starting now," quipped 47-year-old John Erie.

Longden got No. 5,000 by his ride aboard Travis M. Kerr's Bente, the favorite.

The race, his third of the wet, sloppy afternoon, was a head-to-head duel between Bente and Flying Finish II all the way for the six furlong.

No. 5,000 was Longden's 25,706th mount and the win brought his purse earnings to a staggering $16,787,280. The amount of money represents that scored only on the North American continent.

His total wins include victories in seven countries — the United States, England, Scotland, Ireland, Canada, Australia and Mexico.

The son of a coal miner from Wakefield, Eng., a coal miner himself as a youngster in Taber, Canada, Johnny rode many winners on the beach tracks of the northwest which don't show on the record books.

His first thoroughbred winner was in 1927 at Salt Lake City.

Yale is Cornell's oldest basketball rival. They first met in 1899 at Poughkeepsie, N.Y.

Mayfield, Palmer Lead Baton Rouge

BATON ROUGE, La. (AP)—Husky Shelley Mayfield and slender Arnold Palmer, each trying to start a winning streak, led the field today into the second round of the $5,000 Baton Rouge Open Golf Tournament.

Both fired 4 - under - par 68s Thursday for a 1-stroke edge over the field.

Mayfield, 33, playing out of Westbury, N. Y., is out to win his second Baton Rouge Open. Palmer, 27-year-old former national amateur champion playing out of Latrobe, Pa., won the $30,000 Houston Open Monday.

PGA Tournament Scores Below Par

NEW YORK (AP)—The PGA probably wouldn't admit it, and neither would the veterans who are trying to stave off the surge of new talent, but the winning scores in eight tournaments so far indicate the tourists are playing the worst golf in four years.

The best 72-hole scores posted so far were 289s by Dow Finsterwald, a 27-year-old Ohioan, and Don Whit, a 26-year-old Californian, in the Tucson Open. They didn't come within five strokes of matching the winning 284 in the same tournament a year ago.

Gonsalves Listed As Underdog

NEW YORK (AP)—Although he has an unbeaten streak of 13 and is the third-ranking lightweight contender, boxing stylist Johnny Gonsalves of Oakland, Calif., is a 7-5 underdog to unranked Paolo Rosi for their fight tonight.

The two lean 135-pounders will clash in a 10-rounder at Madison Square Garden over NBC TV-radio at 10 p. m.

Rosi, a bony-faced, 29-year-old puncher, has been made the betting choice on the strength of his right hand. The New Yorker, however, cuts easily around the eyes. His record is 23-4.

1957 Auto Tags Now Available in New Holland

Car owners in the New Holland community can get their license tags there again this year, although it seemed for a time that they would have to come either to Washington C. H. or go to Circleville for them.

Thursday, just hours before they went on sale throughout the state Friday, Mrs. Larry Hunter received her appointment as a deputy registrar. With the appointment, came 800 of the new 1957 maroon and white tags in the series X 9061 to X 10400.

The delay in the appointment and shipment of tags, Mrs. Hunter said, was "due to some mix-up."

But, now she has her office set up beside the stack of tags in the New Holland Leader office.

This is Mrs. Hunter's first year as a deputy registrar, but it is not the first time the licenses have been available in New Holland. Kenneth Oesterle formerly handled them. There is a flat fee of 25 cents for issuing the tags. The deadline for driving with 1956 tags is April 1.

Only passenger car tags are available in New Holland, but applications for truck, trailer and farm vehicle licenses will be taken by Mrs. Hunter and forwarded to the state Bureau of Motor Vehicles.

Egypt Tosses Out Suez Agreement

NEW YORK — The New York Times said today in a dispatch from Cairo that Egyptian President Nasser considers himself no longer bound by the "six principles" for operation of the Suez Canal.

The dispatch, quoting informed sources, said Nasser told King Saud of Saudi Arabia that the British-French invasion of Egypt "washed out" Egypt's agreement at the United Nations last October to the principles Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold formulated for settlement of the Suez dispute.

Hammarskjold worked out the six principles in secret talks with British, French and Egyptian leaders at the U. N. They were endorsed by the Security Council and have been considered the basis of any Suez settlement.
